

MEINE
MENSCHENRECHTSSTADTWIEN
W FÜR
ALLE!

SPEAKERS

Human Rights in the City: A City for all
10 December 2014
Campus of the University of Vienna

ANDREA BINDER - ZEHETNER

networking.

...after finishing her studies at the Vienna University of Economics and Business in 1987, Andrea Binder-Zehetner started her professional career at the Austrian Institute of Ecology. As a board member, she was responsible for the financial management. Additionally she contributed to the area of waste management. In 1992 she founded the ecological consulting company ÖkoConsult. From 2000 to September 2002 she supported the implementation of the European Refugee Fund in Austria. Since September 2002, Andrea Binder-Zehetner is Director of Local Agenda 21 in Vienna, responsible for the coordination of district related agenda processes, knowledge transfer, PR, and international

EVA GARCIA CHUECA

... is junior researcher at the Centre for Social Studies (CES), University of Coimbra. She is participating in the project "ALICE. Strange Mirrors, Unsuspected Lessons: Leading Europe to a new way of sharing the world experiences", directed by Boaventura de Sousa Santos. Currently writing a thesis on the right to the city in the framework of the PhD programme "Postcolonialisms and Global Citizenship", she holds a Degree in Law by University of Barcelona and a Master's Degree in Human Rights and Democratisation by the European Inter-University Centre for Human Rights and Democratisation. She began her PhD studies at University of Barcelona (2010) on Citizenship and Human Rights: Ethics and Politics, where she undertook research on "Human Rights: Unfulfilled Promise? Towards a Cosmopolitan notion of Human Rights in light of Boaventura de Sousa Santos' work" and "The Right to the City. Origin of a Cosmopolitan Human Right". Chueca combines research at CES with her job as coordinator of the "Committee on Social Inclusion, Participatory Democracy and Human Rights" of the global organization, United Cities and Local Governments (UCLG).

IVA ČUKIĆ

... born in Belgrade, Serbia, is graduate architect and a PhD candidate at the Faculty of Architecture, University of Belgrade. The areas of her research include public space, public art, self-organization and urban-cultural discourse. She often participates in a variety of independent cultural initiatives. She is a member of INURA (International Network for Urban Research and Action), Independent Cultural Scene of Serbia (a joint platform of organisations, initiatives and individuals in the fields of culture and arts in Serbia) and works as Art and Program director of Street Gallery, which idea she initiated and did architectural design. Every year she maintains the large number of lectures and presentations, and she participates in several conferences and workshops in Serbia and abroad. She co-launched one of the first initiatives aimed at fostering citizens' participation in urban development, initiating dialogue between citizens, social activists, urban developers, architects and city officials about development of the city, titled Ministry of Space.

MICHELE GRIGOLO

...is lecturer in Sociology at Nottingham Trent University. He holds a PhD from the European University Institute (Florence, Italy) and the European Master's Degree in Human Rights and Democratisation. Before moving to Nottingham, he spent three years as postdoctoral fellow at the Centre for Social Studies of the University of Coimbra. Michele Grigolo has researched and published on issues of human rights cities for more than ten years, focusing in particular on equality and non-discrimination and how cities can contribute to the European development of anti-discrimination and human rights policy. He has also contributed to the Joined-Up Governance of Human Rights project of the EU Fundamental Rights Agency as well as the Inclusive Cities Observatory of United Cities and Local Government. His work has been used by Amnesty International Belgium in order to engage municipalities in human rights. He is currently co-editing a book on human rights cities planned for 2015.

BETTINA KÖHLER

... is urban researcher and landscape planner as well as lecturer at the University of Vienna. She is a member of the International Network of Urban Research and Action (INURA). In her research and work, Bettina Köhler focuses on transformation of city politics, urban social movements, urban infrastructure as well as urban political economy.

KARIN KÜBLBÖCK

... studied economics in Vienna and Buenos Aires. Since 1996, Karin Küblböck is researcher at the Austrian Foundation for Development Research in the department of global economy and development. She regularly teaches on issues of her expertise at the Institute of International Development at the University of Vienna as well as pedagogical universities. Karin Küblböck leads research and consulting projects for public and private institutions and designs and leads events on information, dialogue as well as advanced training. In her research, Karin Küblböck focuses on natural resources and development as well as private sector development.

MONIKA MOKRE

... is political scientist and research fellow at the institute of cultural sciences and theatre history of the Austrian Academy of Sciences. She is head of the European Institute for Progressive Cultural Policies (eipcp) and board member of FOKUS, research society for cultural economic and cultural political studies. Monika Mokre is lecturer at the University of Music and Performing Arts as well as the Webster University Vienna. Her research focuses on European democracy and publicity, cultural politics, politics and art, as well as gender studies.

MICHAELA MOSER

... studied theology in Innsbruck, Austria and Nijmegen, Netherlands as well as Public Relations in Vienna. She sees her work in the intersection of education, research, public relations as well as empowerment. 2007 PhD in Philosophy at the University of Wales, Lampeter with a feminist-ethical thesis on the topic „A good Life for All. Feminist Ethical Reflections on Women, Poverty, and the Possibilities of Creating a Change.” From 2003-2012 head of public relations of the umbrella organisation of debt advice services in Austria. Since 2014, she is research fellow at the Ilse Art Institute for social inclusion research and docent at the FH St. Pölten. Since 1995, Michaela Moser lectures at the MCI

Innsbruck and the University of Innsbruck, Salzburg, Graz, the University of Economics in Vienna, as well as the University in Winchester (UK). She is active in the poverty conference and in the European Poverty Network (EAPN). She holds many workshops and presentations as well as writes articles on issues such as poverty, women poverty, inequality, distribution, social politics, living standards, as well as social sustainability.

JAN NIESSEN

...studied sociology at the Amsterdam Free University and was founder and director of the Brussels based Migration Policy Group, an independent think-tank. His professional activities include designing and conducting international comparative research projects, undertaking feasibility studies and establishing and managing international expertise networks. He advises public and private sector organisations on matters related to international migration, immigrant integration, anti-discrimination and diversity. He co-authored the EU Handbooks on Integration and created and managed on behalf of the European Commission the EU Website on Integration and the EU Immigration Portal. He created and co-authored the Migrant Integration Policy

Index (MIPEX), is member of the Editorial Board of the European Journal of Migration and Law, was founding member of European Anti-discrimination Law Review and co-editor of the book series on immigration and asylum law and policy in Europe.

HANNES TRETTER

law, and human rights.

... is Associate Professor for Fundamental and Human Rights Law at the Department of Constitutional and Administrative Law at the University of Vienna, one of the Deputy Directors of the recently established inter-disciplinary Research Centre Human Rights at the University of Vienna, Co-Director of the Ludwig Boltzmann Institute of Human Rights (BIM), Director of the Straniak Academy for Democracy and Human Rights, and board member of the Austrian League for Human Rights. The focus areas of his research, teaching, project, and expert activities lie in fundamental and human rights, public law, European and international law. Moreover, he is head of various EU “Twinning” projects regarding democracy, rule of cultural projects since 1991. (www.derive.at / www.urbanize.at)

ELKE RAUTH

...is vice chairlady of dérive – association for urban research, member of the editor’s team of dérive – magazine for urban research as well as chief editor of radio derive. She is head and co-curator of urbanize! International festival for urban exploration Vienna. She is member of the International Network for Urban Research and Action (INURA), editorial board member of EUROZINE, a platform for European cultural magazines, as well as board member of ORTE, an architecture network in Lower Austria. Elke Rauth studied public relations and communications science, political science, film and media science and holds a PhD in cultural management. She volunteers national and international

REINPRECHT

... is professor as well as head of the department for sociology at the University of Vienna, head of the ULG European Studies, speaker of the research platform „Migration and Integration Research“ and of “Migration and Citizenship” at the Faculty of social sciences. He is publisher of the series “Sociologica”. From 2000-2009, Christoph Reinprecht was mentor of the programme for advancement of women of the University of Vienna. His research focuses on migration, social structure, theories and methodology participatory intervention research. Christoph Reinprecht is member of many organizations, such as the European Network of Housing Research and the research platform

Human Rights in the European Context .

HANS SAKKERS

...is a sociologist specializing in planning and futurology, working for the municipality of Utrecht as head of the Department for Strategy and International Relations. One of his main responsibilities is the cooperation with other European cities, developing networks and projects in the field of urban and social innovation. His most recent project deals with searching for ways to translate the international legal human rights discourse into a local human rights culture, and rethinking the role of cities in the process of globalization.

GABRIELE TATZBERGER

... works at the Vienna Business Agency since 2008 and is head of the department Mingo Start-up. Since 2010, she is also director of the Vienna Region GesmbH. Her professional career began in 1999, where she worked in a private research and consulting firm (also board member since 2003.) Gabriele Tatzberger studied spatial planning at the University of Technology. She holds a PhD from the Delft University of Technology, Netherlands.

IF YOU WOULD LIKE TO FIND OUT MORE ABOUT THE

„VIENNA – HUMAN RIGHTS CITY“,

PLEASE VISIT:

www.menschenrechtsstadt.wien.at

MEINE
MENSCHENRECHTSSTADTWIEN
FÜR
ALLE!